SOCCER BALL GAMES

GOOD WORK BY BOYS OF DIVISION 2—CHAMPIONSHIP CONTEST THIS WEEK

An interesting game between two teams badly matched, was played Tuesday when the Colorado and Broadway teams met for soccer ball. Broadway won 8 to 1, as a foregone conclusion. It could hardly be otherwise when its team includes many boys from the ungraded room, who, by size alone, outclass the Colorado players. It was nevertheless a hotly-fought contest, the Colorado boys not losing their pep but playing as well at the end as they did in the beginning. Broadway players made their goals by rushing the ball by main strength and breaking through the Colorado guard. Once the Colorado players were able to imitate their tactics and win a goal. Credit for good work on the Broadway team was given to Armon Dair (goal guard) and Raymond Bullock (center) who got seven of the goals credited to the team. Arnold Cushman, who played in the last half making the eighth goal. Wilford King, who played center, also did good work.

Raygene Doll made the goal to the credit of the Colorado team. Other boys on the team who did well were: Harry Bostwick, Jack Delara, Chas. Beamon, Robert Conklin, Eugene Kille and Melville Walker.

The championship of Division No. 2 will be decided by a game to be played Thursday afternoon between the teams of Broadway and Pacific avenue. Broadway now has ten points while Pacific avenue has but nine. This means that Pacific avenue must achieve a substantial victory to win because if the game should be a tie Broadway would win. It is likely to be the sharpest contest that has yet been staged in the grammar school leagues and will be played on the Colorado field which, being centrally located, will be more convenient for the many school boys who will want to attend as spectators.

DEBATE TRY-OUTS

Next Tuesday the try-outs for the debating team of Glendale High will come off. Nine or ten members of the class are planning to compete and out of the number four will be selected. Next Wednesday morning they expect to have a letter from the University of Southern California giving the exact question for the debate which is to take place December 5th.

WERE THEY I. W. W.'S?

Facts brought out in connection with a quiet investigation of the fire which occurred at the Glendale Creamery plant last Sunday, suggest interesting but serious possibilities. The fact that the early morning crew at the barn are not smokers disposed of the theory that a lighted cigarette might have caused the blaze. Mr. MacMullin says, and there was no other fire about the plant. He learned, however, from a man who passed the place in an automobile just before the fire was discovered, that four tough-looking men were seated on the curbing near the plant who attracted his attention, and the early delivery driver remembered seeing the same men. The blaze started at a point where if not checked within a very short time, it would have swept down the line and destroyed the entire plant. The fire ladders arrived barely in time to save the haystacks. Had they caught, nothing could have saved the buildings. Mr. MacMullin entertains the theory that the four men who were seen loitering about were I. W. W.'s bent on malicious mischief and that they were merely attempting to do another of the many acts of sabotage charged against them. By the time they had been connected by suspicion with the affair, they had disappeared, so the real facts will perhaps never be known.

AUTO COLLISION

The junction of Maryland and Broadway was the scene of an auto collision Wednesday evening about 6:30 o'clock in which a light automobile driven by Mrs. Willis, of San Fernando, accompanied by her little daughter, crashed into an auto truck driven by Sam Yogi, the green vegetable merchant at 114B on East Broadway. The passenger car was quite badly wrecked by the impact but the truck sustained little damage. Mrs. Willis and her little girl were cut and bruised and were taken to the Glendale Sanitarium for first aid. Their wounds were found to be superficial and they were well enough to return to their home in San Fernando this morning.

HIGH SCHOOL NEEDS

Announcement of the meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association and of the theme of discussion—"the needs of the school"—drew an unusually large audience in which the masculine element was more largely represented than is usually the case at afternoon gatherings. Tea and wafers were served before the assembly was called to order during the social period of exchanging greetings and then the president, Mrs. George U. Moyses, called the meeting to order. After a few announcements had been made including one from the chairman of membership, Mrs. John Robert White, reporting an enrollment of ninety with thirty more in sight, the speaker of the afternoon, Hartley Shaw, of the Board of Trustees of the High School, was introduced. He said:

"The High School Board has arrived at the conclusion that the High School needs considerable facilities in the way of buildings. We are not alone in facing that problem in Glendale. The Board of Education in Los Angeles is getting ready to ask for $29,000,000. We do not expect to ask for that amount, but we will ask for quite a sum.

"To show you how Glendale grows, when this present site was first occupied in September, 1909, after the administration building was completed, during that year we had an average daily attendance of 167. At that time we had eleven teachers. This building had seven teen class rooms. Five years later we found this was not adequate and then the Household Arts and the Mechanical Arts buildings were erected and occupied in January, 1915. In that year the average attendance was 369, twenty-five teachers were employed and we had thirty-six class rooms. During that five years the increase in attendance was 121 per cent and enrollment 123 per cent. During the same time the teachers increased 127 per cent and the class rooms 111 per cent. We are still increasing, but not quite so fast. We have an average attendance of 666 and an enrollment of 759. We have forty teachers. The average attendance has increased 80 per cent, the number of teachers 60 per cent. We

COME TO VISIT AND REMAIN

Mrs. A. C. Pert of 412 Ivy street has been entertaining with great pleasure her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Woodside, of Yates Center, Kansas. They came from the sunflower state a few weeks ago to visit Mrs. Clarence Wilkinson, sister of Mrs. Woodside, who lives at Harper in Orange county. As the Wilkinsons formerly resided in Glendale where they had entertained Mrs. Woodside, the town was familiar to her. She and her husband were so charmed with it, however, on this visit that they decided to locate. Mr. Woodside has secured employment here as a painter and Mrs. Woodside is returning to Yates to dispose of certain interests there, pack up and bring her mother out here to stay.

DANCING AND CARDS

Mrs. Robert Thistlewhite of 122 South Louise street, entertained Wednesday evening for her daughter, Gladys, and son, Walter. They are high school students and in recognition of that fact the living rooms of the Thistlewhite residence and the electric light globes were covered with the high school colors—black and red. The dancing program included "Lucky Spot" dances for which pretty prizes were given. Card tables were provided for those who did not care to dance. A buffet luncheon of sandwiches, cake and punch was served by the hostess.

The guest list included: Mildred Wright, Margaret Fenton, Madeline Love, Helen Ingledue, Hazel Wilson, Emily Hills, Dorothy Peart, Bessie Carney, Isabel Van Epps, Dorothy Baird, Gladys Thistlewhite, Robert Howlett, Cecil Wilson, Chester Weaver, Donald Price, Herbert Besant, Victor Colburn, Walter Thistlewhite, Herbert McCann, Kenneth Wilde, Bernard Dennison, Max Price, Sloan Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKelvey.

MOTHER ARRIVES

Jesse E. Smith is happy because of the arrival in Glendale a few days ago of his mother, Anna E. Smith, and brother, Thomas B. Smith. They came to Glendale from Detroit, Mich., for a visit, but have "fallen in love" with Glendale and may decide to locate permanently.

A VIOLENT DEATH

THREE MEN KILLED IN COLLISION OF AUTO WITH P. E. TRAIN AND WOMAN SEVERELY BURNED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—Paul Copeland and Walter Ryan, both travelling salesmen from New York and William Buell, a chauffeur of Los Angeles, were killed and Miss Terry, a motion-picture actress suffered a broken leg and severe burns early today when their automobile collided with a Pacific Electric train on Alameda street. The automobile burned after the collision and the train crew had to extinguish the fire before they could rescue Miss Terry and release the bodies of the three men. Police said, after investigation, that the train crew was not to blame for the accident.

EUROPE'S REACTION

ADMINISTRATION ANXIOUSLY AWAITS EFFECT OF TREATY'S DEFEAT WITH DIRE FOREBODINGS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Senator Hitchcock today declared that the President will present the peace treaty to the Senate again when the session of Congress convenes December 1st. It is understood the President is working on a statement to the people declaring the defeat of the treaty is a victory for Bolshevism and for Germany. His hottest shot may be reserved for his message to Congress December 1st.

It is expected that one of the President's first moves will be the withdrawal of the treaty from the Senate where it has been tabled, and that he will then resubmit it.

It is admitted that the administration is anxiously awaiting the reaction of foreign countries to the treaty's defeat in the senate. The President is known to believe that with the United States standing aloof Europe is liable to be plunged into a war more terrible than the one just ended and that Germany and the United States, being the only powers outside of the League of Nations, may be drawn into an undesirable relationship.

GENTLEMANLY BANDIT

CARLISLE, WHO ROBBED L. A. LIMITED IS STILL AT LARGE IN SPITE OF WIDE SEARCH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DENVER, Nov. 20.—The hunt for William Carlisle, the gentleman bandit who robbed the Los Angeles Limited two days ago is continuing with cavalry, citizens' posses, deputy sheriffs and railway detectives searching a wide territory. The last clew to Carlisle was a report that he had visited a newspaper office in Caspar, Wyo., and asked how the search was progressing. The railway men openly admit they expect him to rob another train at any moment, probably on the Burlington line.

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIRCLE MEETS

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, which meets at the residence of Mrs. Chas. Toll, has had some very interesting meetings recently.

Last week Mrs. Toll gave an interesting talk on Children's Reading, illustrating her talk with some of the books from her sons' library. Mrs. Toll says that we must begin early if we expect children to love books.

The Reading Circle sent a letter to the Consumers' League approving of their stand in regards to the Milk Trust. It is imperative that all mothers be able to purchase the milk needed for their little ones.

Two new circles have been started in Pasadena and another at Sixth Street School in Los Angeles. The Circle work is growing.

The new book, "Practical Motherhood," is proving very interesting and brings up many points for discussion.

There will be no meeting of the Circle next week because the mothers will be busy with Thanksgiving preparations.

DEATH OF A. D. MacDANIEL

A. D. MacDaniel, of 329 Fairview avenue, passed away yesterday at the home of his brother, John MacDaniel, of Kingsburg, California. The deceased, who was thirty-one years old, had been ill for three months, but it was thought that he was recovering. The end was very sudden. He leaves a widow. The body will be brought to Glendale. The grief of the widow, Hattie MacDaniel, will be shared by the father of deceased, Thomas MacDaniel, of Kentucky, and by two brothers and a sister, John D. MacDaniel, of Kingsburg, Reuben MacDaniel, of Watsonville, and Mrs. Mary Allen, of Teges, Ky. He was a native of Conkling, Ky.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, November 21st, at 2 o'clock in the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, with the Seavern Company in charge.

FELLOWSHIP NIGHT

CONGREGATIONALISTS ENJOY CHURCH DINNER AND ADDRESSES

A greatly enjoyed and highly successful church supper and social meeting was enjoyed Wednesday evening at the Glendale Congregational Church, at which covers were laid for one hundred. It was one of a series of fellowship meetings which are being held by churches of the denomination all over the United States this week.

An exceedingly nice dinner was served of which Mesdames Franklin and Yarrick had charge and in which they were assisted by other women of the church. Dr. E. H. Willisford presided and introduced the speakers who gave the after-dinner talks.

The first of these addresses was given by Rev. Morgan E. Isaac, pastor of the Congregational Church of Eagle Rock. His theme was "Christian Giving," or the importance of "Every Member Canvass." He said among other things that the world now does things in a different way from the good old days of tallow candles, and the work of promoting Christianity must be carried along in such a business-like way that the church can be properly financed. He called attention to the action that is being taken by many denominations toward a just increase in the salaries of ministers. "In our own denomination," said he, "the board of directors of the Southern California Conference are recommending an increase of 25 per cent in ministers' salaries."

Mr. Isaac was followed by Rev. Selwyn Evans, pastor of the Congregational Church of La Canada, who strongly urged that the church do its own evangelistic work. He stressed the importance of an adequate church plant, good music and all such adjuncts, but, in addition, he declared, there must be the evangelistic spirit and effort. Both of the speakers are Welshmen. Especially Welsh in his speech and manner is Rev. Evans, who recently came to La Canada from Australia. He referred to the great revival in Wales a number of years ago which he had the good fortune to attend.

Rev. Edwin Waldo, pastor of the Oneonta Park Congregational Church, was to have been a speaker but was prevented from coming. In his absence Dr. Willisford improved the opportunity to speak upon the importance of an adequate church plant.

One of the most interesting features of the meeting was the report on the canvass that is now in progress to secure funds for a new church. It showed that splendid progress had been made and that only $3500 now remains to be raised to insure the entire amount. The committee stated that since the announcement published in the Glendale News—the first public announcement relative to church building plans, a number of citizens who had not been canvassed had voluntarily tendered subscriptions and it was quite probable that others would do likewise.

Y. L. I. CHAPTER

A chapter of a new Catholic order, "The Young Ladies' Institute," was organized in Glendale Wednesday evening at an enthusiastic meeting held at the Masonic Temple. Officers of the Los Angeles Institute were present and performed the work of initiating about forty candidates, who were present and seeking admittance to the order which is to the women of the church what the Knights of Columbus is to the men. Initiation was followed by an election of local officers. Miss Susan Wendell was made president; Miss Cecilia Billington, vice-president; Miss Edna May Lawson, financial secretary; Miss Walsh, treasurer. The object of the institute is to bring the young women of the church together for social enjoyment and to provide them with insurance. Meetings will be held fortnightly, but the time and place has not yet been determined. The order originated on this coast and is spreading over the entire United States.

DINNER AND SOCIAL EVENING

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry St. Clair, 1250 South Maryland street, entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. W. E. vom Bruch and Rev. Harry vom Bruch, the evangelist, who recently held meetings in Glendale. After a sumptuous repast the guests spent the evening in games and a royal good time. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. vom Bruch, Harry vom Bruch, Ethel Preston, Mary, Lida and Nancy St. Clair and Mr. and Mrs. Harry St. Clair.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1919

NEW YORK'S BUSIEST MAN

Frank W. Frueauff, according to the New York Directory of Directors, holds down 137 jobs, but since the directory leaped from the press Mr. Frueauff has annexed another important one. He thus officially becomes the busiest man in New York and no doubt in the world. He is either director, vice president or president of 138 organizations.

Mr. Frueauff is 46 years old. The little red-haired, freckle-faced youngster burgeoned and bloomed in Leadville, Colorado, which was at that time the toughest, roughest and most hell-roaring mining camp in all America. Young Frank's initial excursion into the busy marts of trade consisted of reclaiming and disposing of rags and old bottles.

Early in his career Mr. Frueauff learned that to gain recognition an employe must do something that stands out. It would seem that reading meters would not offer any great chances to develop astonishing traits. But Frueauff developed the habit of being polite. As a side line he has developed a memory. He remembered every face that he saw and every name that he heard. His politeness won him a promotion of the general offices as a clerk. His memory for faces enabled him to call people by name and thus reason with them advantageously if there was a dispute.

Those who scoff at there being anything in a name might consider that of the subject of this sketch. Frueauff, translated into the native tongue—means "Early Up!" Mr. Frueauff is always that. Everybody's.

LEARN THRIFT FROM A PUSH CART ECONOMIST

The pushcart peddler, 78 years old, who has just bought a $1000 treasury savings certificate with the thrift stamps he had laboriously accumulated since December, 1917, is temporarily, a local celebrity. Other men, indeed, make $1,000,000 subscriptions to liberty loans and attract less attention. But does not the peddler deserve his greater publicity? To make the small stock of a pushcart yield $1000 in savings over and above the owner's living expenses in less than two years and to be able to exhibit the tangible evidence of the feat in the form of a crisp treasury certificate is an example of thrift worth public commendation.

Everybody will extol the humble pushcart financier. All who complain of the cost of living and decry the high prices of shoes and clothes and cabarets and hotel dinners and grumble but pay rather than deny themselves the best will praise his thrift. But as to emulating it that is another matter. Economy is a disagreeable thing, and what is money but to spend? Let peddlers wear old clothes and stint themselves to save, but why should freeborn Americans take the trouble? "Costly the habit as this purse can buy," even in time of scarcity. Polonius is the prophet of easy money folk; leave economy and thrift stamps to others. Ben Franklin would have approved of this peddler. Most of those who praise him will forget him tomorrow. Yet none of the economists in high places has a sounder theory for combating the high cost of living, and all the price fixing and government regulation will not accomplish to that end as much as might be accomplished if all people would follow the peddler's example of thrift even in small part.—New York World.

THE GRAVITATION THEORY

Many people have been thinking of late that the world was going to the "demition bowwows."

And now the Italian attack upon Newton's "theory" of gravitation threatens the very foundation of things.

Professor Maibrana, regarded in Home as not only sane but as a prominent scientist, actually says that what all along has been called the "law" of gravitation is "only an approximate hypothesis!" Not long since, the good Dr. Jordan of Stanford, seeking for some positive expression of his belief in the absolute truth of evolution, declared it "as firmly established as gravitation itself."

But all scientists today are not believers in what is known as the Darwinian theory.

And now comes this modern Roman knocker, elbowing aside the Newtonian "theory," claiming his own new "discoveries" will bring about "a revolution in astro-physical science," and also that the sears attract other bodies with forces entirely different from those thus far admitted to exist.

What of the venerable story of Isaac Newton seeing an apple falling from the tree, and, instead of eating it, resting his lofty brow upon his hand and exclaiming that wondrous "law" of gravitation which fundamentally changed astronomy?

What of the cherished belief that if it were not for the steady pull of the sun our globe would go flying off to "Kingdom Come" and nobody would know what had happened, because of sudden death?—Exchange.

The property at 319 West Wilson, owned by Miss Anderson, was sold Tuesday at midnight to Mr. Dudley. The Allens like others, are to be consoled, in that they can not tell where they will go next.

Mr. and Mrs. Alford and Mrs. Alford's mother, Mrs. Smith, after living at Eagle Rock for a number of months, have tired of life there, and returned to Glendale, being at home at 367 West Wilson street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hutchings of Kansas City, Mo., came to Glendale recently on a visit and were so charmed with the climate and especially our beautiful city, that they concluded to spend the winter here and are pleasantly located at 115 South Pacific avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Smith of Big Creek, Calif., arrived in Glendale, Wednesday, and called upon their old friend, Charles Shattuck, with the Packer & White Auto Company. Mrs. Smith has gone to the Glendale Sanitarium for treatment.

L. T. Rowley has been executing commissions for the Glendale Red Cross Chapter. He has sold its truck for a good figure and turned the money in to the treasury and has also sold its adding machine to the School District so it will still serve the community.

M. J. Brennan, of 519 North Central avenue, who is now in Chicago on business connected with the Marshall Field Company, with which he is connected, is expected home Thanksgiving Eve. His wife says there will be no Thanksgiving for her if he fails to arrive.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Malarkey, who now reside at 334 Salem street, expect to move into their newly-erected home, on corner of Lexington avenue and North Jackson street, about December 1st. They are former residents of Pittsburgh, Pa., who are extremely happy to be away from the smoke, slime and slush of Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans of 333 North Orange street entertained Wednesday evening informally for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnell, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Mattoon. He ignored the hurt until it began to give him trouble and he was forced to go to the Glendale Sanitarium for treatment where he has been for about two weeks. He is a very capable, efficient man and is much missed at the Intermediate, where his speedy recovery is greatly desired.

NEWS SEEKERS' NOTES

A Glendale lady, too modest to allow her name to be mentioned, says that her family lived first at Long Beach, then at Los Angeles for some time, and did not enjoy themselves at either place. They are now perfectly satisfied with Glendale, and promise a subscription for the Evening News soon, so that they may get information about daily events in Glendale.

We have felt rather embarrassed because of our electric door-bell's balkiness, when it was supposed to ring, but after reading numerous cards on other doors, "Bell don't ring, knock at the door," we feel consoled—somewhat. Any electrician might find a ready sale of batteries if he came around like the bread-man with a load of his goods.

A September number of the New York World shows a photograph of beautiful bronze Memorial Tablet which had been unveiled in the Pulitzer Building in New York. Upon it are the words: "To the eternal memory of the men of the New York World who served in the conflict between Liberty and Autocracy." Below are the names of about 200 of the New York World's staff, who served with the colors. Dr. Whytock, who resides at 411 North Jackson street, is highly honored by having the name of his son, Major Ross Whytock, appear on this tablet. At the foot of the tablet is the significant inscription: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." St. John 15:13.

Canaan Weed-Patch seems to be a well-to-do property holder in Los Angeles and its suburbs. His holdings in Glendale are numerous. Even in the centre of the business district, on the boulevard, and avenues—on almost every street, in fact, some of his lots may be seen. Mr. Weed-Patch we learn is a Canaanite, a descendant of Ham, with a very remote and ignoble ancestry, dating from the time our first parents, Adam and Eve, left Eden, and thorns and thistles began to grow. He is the enemy of all that is beautiful.

At present Mr. Weed-Patch is offering many of his Glendale holdings for sale, and it is to be hoped that he may find purchasers. If that is not possible we trust he may be encouraged to mow his "lawn" at least before Thanksgiving Day comes, so that the lovers of a beautiful Glendale may have added cause for thanksgiving.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE MEETING

The Ways and Means Committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of the chairman, Mrs. C. H. Temple. Methods of raising funds for a club house were discussed with a view to submitting a report to the Board of Directors of the Club. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess and enjoyed by Mrs. E. H. Willisford, Mrs. A. H. Hunt, Mrs. Mabel Rudy and Miss Eva Daniels. Mrs. Roy Kent, who is a member of the committee, was unable to be present.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

The first session of the School of Missions in the Baptist Church was held Wednesday evening with 65 in attendance. A half hour of prayer service was held at the opening. At eight o'clock the stereopticon was used to show the early settlement of our country by the Pilgrim Fathers, and the growth of our land, and the coming of millions of immigrants. A short lecture by the teacher, Rev. Ernest E. Ford, with spirited discussions by members of the class, closed the hour of study. These classes will be held each Wednesday night for five nights; the sixth night there will be a demonstration of what America is doing for the foreign-speaking people in our country, through a play given by the Sunday School. The book studied is "Christian Americanization." Doors are open to all.

With house and flat shortages reported from every part of the country, we can't help wondering where all the people lived before the shortage.

have not increased the teachers in proportion to the increased attendance. We have not increased the class rooms at all. We are using some rooms never intended for class rooms. We are very short of room, but we are managing to get along.
We must, however, look forward.
There will be an increased attendance next year and we must be prepared to meet it. During the past five years the attendance has increased an average of ten per cent a year.
With the same rate of increase we will have over 700 in attendance next year. We have been increasing faster than some of the other school districts. (Mr. Shaw then quoted statistics regarding high school attendance in Alhambra, Monrovia, Covina, Pasadena and others). Glendale has increased 18 per cent in the past two years. During the past two years Glendale has not increased its housing facilities but if you will walk around the city now you will see houses going up everywhere. For that reason we should naturally look for a larger increase in attendance next year. The Grammar School Board has taken these things into account and is making provisions accordingly. We will have to do so too. We must start in right now to increase our facilities. We thought it best to wait, however, until the Grammar School and Water Bond issues were out of the way."What buildings do we need? The auditorium has 525 seats. By bringing in extra chairs we can manage to seat 550. We have an average attendance of students of 666, so you can see we cannot get all the students into the auditorium unless they all stand up. Also there is need of a place to hold graduating exercises. We ought to have an auditorium that would seat 2000 persons so constructed that the seating capacity could be increased or diminished for larger or smaller gatherings.We need more class rooms. The Music and Dramatic Departments should be put into such a building.
The enrollment of the Music Department is 125; the elocutionary enrollment is 43 and we have a debating class of 15. If we had an auditorium with class rooms in it, these departments, which are more or less noisy, could be moved to that building and so release the class rooms they are now occupying. A new auditorium would leave the old one to be cut up into four or five class rooms.Another thing needed is a general science building. We now have one lecture room and three laboratories.
We have 250 students in these classes. In chemistry we had to close the enrollment when it reached 75 because we could take care of no more. General science with an enrollment of 91 had to be closed for the same reason. The rooms in the Administration Building were built ten years ago and are not adequate to the classes we now have. We should have a science building in which all those classes could be brought together. That would give additional room."We have thirty-six class rooms but some of them cannot be used for that purpose, for instance, our domestic science rooms, our sewing rooms, machine shop and wood-working room and forge room."If we have these new buildings there will be one more thing we ought to have and that is a central heating plant. We would then have five buildings to be heated. It would be economy to install one central heating plant with an engineer in charge instead of having a separate heating plant for each building. As a matter of fact no heat at all has been provided for the Mechanical Arts building."If we can have these things we can take care of growth for some time to come. We are bonded now for $127,500. Our assessed valuation is $10,000,000. We can add considerably to our bonded indebtedness without approaching the limit.Another need touched upon by Mr.
Shaw in conversation following the meeting was additional ground as asite for the proposed auditorium. It has long been agreed among citizens that the High School campus should be completed by the purchase of the land adjoining between it and Brand boulevard as far south as the Masonic Temple. As the auditorium would be put to many public uses a site on the corner of Brand and Harvard would be very desirable and the additional ground would be needed as a setting for it.In closing his talk, Mr. Shaw urged every person present to think seriously of the school needs he had mentioned and to use his or her influence to boost for the necessary bond issue.FAITHFULNESS TO THE LORDDeclaring faithfulness to be the virtue of highest regard in the eyes of the Lord, Elder Meade Maguire delivered a discourse to the congregation of the Seventh-day Adventist church Sabbath morning.Moses, during his leadership of God's then chosen people, exemplified this desirable quality of faithfulness as shown by various references taken from the records in the book of Numbers and commented on in Hebrews three and eleven.
"Moses verily was faithful in all his house as a servant." Hebrews 3:5.
This type of faithfulness was a rarity before the days of Christ.Moses set all aside for a place in God's family counting wealth, honor and ease less desirable than the hardships incident to leading the household of faith to a strange land.
His interest in God's people—his people—was not merely paramount to other interests; he had no other interests, no other object nor project in mind. This should be the attitude of each child of God whether leader or laity.Not to tear down, not to discourage, but to build up, to encourage each and every member of God's house should be the work of every servant. Because Moses in no instance turned against the people, censured not nor left them to their just punishment, the people trusted in him. His love for them was above discouragement. He was faithful to his own.The meek and forgiving spirit of this great man was shown when according to the record in Numbers 12 he was accused by Aaron and Miriam of exalting himself above them as a mouthpiece of God. For this sin Miriam was smitten with leprosy.
Moses besought the Lord to heal her, which for his sake was done. No resentment found place in the heart of the faithful Moses, but intercession for the erring one.Again in the fourteenth chapter of Numbers we read of the murmuring of the people against Moses for leading them into hardships. When the Lord would have destroyed these rebels but preserved Moses' life, this unappreciated leader fell on his face before God and pleaded for their unprofitable lives. His prayer was answered.Wherever a servant of God is stationed he sustains the same relation to God's people as Moses did to the children of Israel. If kindred brethren or neighbors err against God or man they should not be driven farther away from the right by the attitude of those who should keep not hinder their struggles against evil.If they were surrounded constantly with an atmosphere of love and prayer, if intercessors stood between them and just punishment as Moses did in days long ago, fewer would be lost.If Christians were less sensitive to personal slights and lack of appreciation and more zealous for the honor of God and salvation of souls, there would be more faithful Moses and more would enter the promised land.Have you unconverted relatives or friends? Do not cease praying for them however hopeless their cases may seem. So long as mortal man loves and pleads for a soul God will not forsake nor abandon that one.
"The earnest, effectual prayer of a righteous man availeth much."
